Keynote Animals And More!

John Michael Moore is currently the chair of the 2016 Louisiana State Fair Board, following in the footsteps of his father who was a prior chairman of the Board. John Michael is executive vice president at Haynesville Mercantile Company in Bossier City.

Our own Rotarian Jon Lowe will also participate in the program on Tuesday. Jon is a retired 4-H agent and 4-H Parish chair who has served on the Ark-La-Tex Agricultural Council, Caddo Parish Farm Bureau and the State Fair Board of Directors. In 2008 he was inducted into the Louisiana 4-H Hall of Fame. In a survey conducted by The Times in 1999 or 2000 he was selected as one of the area's 100 most influential people in Caddo Parish.

Rotarian Andy Shehee is on the Board of Directors of the Ark-La-Tex Agricultural Council and the Executive Committee of the State Fair. Andy is our area's ameraucana (not americana) chicken expert.

Rotarian Anna Maria Keele made her surprise debut in 2015 as our auctioneer and she is returning this year to continue honing her talents.

Another Paul Harris Fellowship Level-Up

Last Tuesday, Dr. Charlotte Jones received her PHF+1 lapel pin. In 2001, Charlotte was sponsored in the club by Susan Beal. She served as a club director in the 2009-2010 Rotary year. Charlotte has been active on these committees: membership, civic grants, club scholarships and our raffle for The Rotary Foundation.

After receiving her B.S. in mathematics from the University of Arkansas-Monticello, she earned her MBA and her Ph.D. from LA Tech in quantitative analysis.

She retired from the LSUS College of Business as Dean Emeritus after 25 years. While at LSUS, Dr. Jones was the faculty sponsor for the LSUS Rotaract club.

Even though she is now retired, Charlotte stays busy with activities in Minden where she has lived for 40 years. She serves as the director for the United Christian Assistance Program in Minden and also is secretary-treasurer at the Friends of the Germantown Colony Museum.
